

Over Six Tons Silver Bullion Shipped Three Tonopah Mills Sent Out Metal CONSIGNMENTS FROM BELMONT, WEST END AND MONTANA TO COAST HAS ESTIMATED VALUE $152,361

Over six and one-half tons of bullion representing the bimonthly clean-up in three Tonopah mills, and with an estimated value of $152,361.44, was shipped from Tonopah today through the medium of the Wells Fargo company. The bullion was in the form of 128 huge bars and is reckoned as the largest collective shipment that has ever left this place.

The shipment was from the Belmont company and consisted of 55 bars. The weight of this consignment was given as 109,313 ounces, which reduced to pounds would be 7429, or three tons and 1429 pounds. The estimated value of this lot is $84,171.

The Montana-Tonopah was second in line, having 44 bars with a total weight of 3344 1/2 pounds. Reduced to tons this would be one ton, 1344 1/2 pounds. The estimated value of this shipment is $39,648.

The Tonopah Mining company, through the Desert Power and Mill company, at Millers, will ship bullion tomorrow and if the figures from this consignment were to be added to the above total, a record would be established for bullion that would stand for years. This company averages 60,000 ounces weekly.

The shipment of the silver metal on the same day is merely a coincidence, nevertheless it caused the office force of the Wells Fargo company to hustle this morning while the huge bars were being transferred from the company trucks to the express car on the north bound train.

"NEVADA MAN IS VERY UNSTABLE" ---ANN MARTIN

RENO SUFFRAGETTE LEADER RE-
CITES A FEW UNTRUTHS TO EASTERN SISTERS.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—The color question obtruded itself at the meeting of the Mississippi Valley Suffrage conference yesterday afternoon, with the result that the leaders of the cause emphatically vetoed the demand of the management of the hotel where the conference was being held that a negro be ejected from the building.

The negro was Mrs. Victoria Haley, president of the St. Louis Negro Woman's club. Her presence at the morning session attracted no comment, but when the conference reassembled in the afternoon T. J. Darcey, manager of the hotel, was notified.

Manager Darcey started for the suffrage meeting with a demand that Mrs. Haley be ejected. An animated conference with Mrs. D. W. Kneller, state campaign manager for the suffragists in Missouri, and with Mrs. Davis N. O'Neil, president of the St. Louis Equal Suffrage league, followed. As a result Mrs. Haley was allowed to remain.

Mrs. Ann Martin of Reno, Nev., told of the difficulties of making a suffrage campaign in that state.

"Men are a very unstable element of the citizenship in the mining regions of Nevada," she said. "And 14 men elected to the legislature left the state before their terms were to begin."

Oliver W. Stewart of Chicago, one of the organizers of the Men's league for Woman's Suffrage, said that men should lead in the suffrage movement but that it was difficult to get those who have power to share it with others.

The conviction and sentencing of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette in England today, was not discussed in the meeting, but the delegates to the conference discussed the news among themselves.

PLANS ARE MADE TO ENTERTAIN VISITING EAGLES

OF THE STATE AERIE.

The Tonopah Military band will likewise be on hand.

An elaborate program has been arranged for the entertainment of the visitors. During the four days the state aerie is in session there will be something doing every minute. NEVADA EXHIBIT AT SAN DIEGO TO PROVE A SURPRISE

ALL DIFFERENT PRODUCTS OF THE SOIL WILL BE PLACED ON EXHIBITION.

(Special to the Bonanza.)
SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 5.—Only sons of Nevada, natural or adopted, know the treasures their home state has within its borders, and are conscious of the surprise awaiting the world when some of the things Nevada has to show will be seen at the San Diego Exposition of 1915.

That Nevada soil, in point of productivity has no superior in the world, and, as a matter of fact, few equals, will no doubt come as a matter of great surprise to many exposition visitors, and it is with feelings of pride that former Nevadans, now resident in San Diego, contemplate the fact that at last their home state is to have a real exhibit, and that, at the finest exposition the world has ever known.

Nevada's mining resources are known in a general way, the world over, not because Nevada has ever sought to advertise them, but because they have, by their startling richness and immensity, advertised themselves to the people of all countries.

Now, however, there is coming a time when Nevada is to come into at least a portion of her own, and the world is to be shown something of her resources both as a producer of precious metals and the fruits of the field, and patriotic Nevadans rejoice in their knowledge.

Of the great mass of immigration which has flowed through Nevada since the discovery of gold in California in 1848, an influential part has stepped aside from the beaten track in the "Sagebrush State" and the natural consequence has been that Nevada has been, and is, the least known state in the union.

The world in general does not know that Nevada has hundreds of thousands of acres of land which, once touched by the magic hand of reclamation, is ready to bloom into veritable green spots of productive and remunerative farms.

Nevada will at least have a chance to enjoy and reap the long earned fruits of proper publicity for her unsung resources in agriculture at the San Diego Exposition two years hence. That her great mining resources as they exist in Goldfield, Tonopah, Ely, Virginia City, Pioche and numerous other places will not be neglected by the exposition commission goes without saying, and the saying: "Once a Nevadan, always a Nevadan," is exemplified in the fact that Nevadans abroad, as well as those at home, are watching the results of the old state's determination to exhibit at the San Diego Exposition with immense interest.

Indeed, the efforts of those having the relief work in hand have sufficed to fill five cars with local products, including potatoes, onions, and other root products of the farm, smoked meats, flour and even clothing.

The total value of the consignments will approximate $1500 on the cars in Fallon and upon the arrival at their destination, where they are being carried gratis by the railroads, the value will be at least twice that sum.
